Oxford Realty Advisors

A Private Investment Firm Built for Generations

Founded in 2005, Oxford began as a commercial real estate advisory practice before recognizing the greatest opportunity lay in owning. Today we are a principal investor and operator with 600,000+ SF of shallow-bay industrial and flex space across four core markets — acquired with 100% family capital, no outside investors, and no fund structure.

We target the structural undersupply of functional Class B/C industrial space in secondary markets, acquiring what institutional buyers avoid: high-vacancy assets with deferred maintenance, environmental complexity, or fractured ownership. Below-market leases reset at expiry, occupancy climbs through active management, and proceeds recycle into accretive acquisitions. A 15% portfolio LTV means all-cash closings on every deal — and the ability to hold through any cycle.

Leadership

Eric Goldberg

Founder | 20+ Years in CRE

Washington University in St. Louis

Eric Goldberg founded Oxford Realty Advisors in 2005 after a career in commercial real estate advisory and accounting. He has built Oxford into a vertically integrated owner-operator of industrial and flex properties across multiple markets. His investment philosophy centers on acquiring functional industrial assets at a basis that provides a margin of safety against downside risk while positioning for long-term compounding.

Gabriel Goldberg

VP, Acquisitions | 5+ Years in CRE

Cornell University

Gabriel Goldberg leads Oxford's acquisition pipeline, from deal sourcing and underwriting to negotiation and closing. He manages relationships with the firm's broker network, oversees due diligence for all new acquisitions, and is building the technology infrastructure to scale Oxford's operations across new markets.

What Our Partners Say

> I've worked with Oxford for about 13 years. They consistently perform as capable buyers. When the opportunity is right, they overlook small problems and keep the bigger picture in mind. Professional, easy to work with, and very responsive.
>
> Nathan Pealer
> Managing Director Investments, Marcus & Millichap

> Oxford Realty operates in a highly professional fashion. Leasing, management, and asset care are taken in a balanced approach to achieve highly productive properties.
>
> Carl Truitt
> Property Manager

> From day one it has felt more like a partnership than a typical owner/manager relationship. They are always available and very involved — fair, willing to spend money when needed, and always thinking long term.
